HYDE A WITNESS

On Stand in Insurance Investigation Yesterday.

TELLS OF CONNECTION WITH THE EQUITABLE.

His Salary and the $850,000 Mysterious Loan Explained—How Large Sum Was Repaid.

THE EVIDENCE FRANK AND VERY SENSATIONAL.

New York, Nov. 14.—James H. Hyde, former vice president of the Equitable Life Assurance society, was the most conspicuous figure at the opening of today's session of the Armstrong commission insurance investigation.

Just before the session was called to order Mr. Hyde entered the room, accompanied by his counsel, Samuel Untermyer, and took a seat well up towards the front of the room and immediately back of the press table.

Extra police had been stationed in the corridor outside the committee room to control any great crowd that might appear. The first witness called was John McGuinness, employed by the Equitable Life, who was on the stand at adjournment last night, and the reading of orders of T. D. Jordan to A. C. Fields relative to bills introduced in the legislature in Albany was continued.

On the Stand.
Mr. Hyde was the next witness. He testified that he was 29 years of age, and became second vice president of the Equitable one month after graduating from Harvard. He had always been brought up to believe his life work was to be the legitimate successor of his father, the founder of the Equitable. He had traveled and studied with that object in view. His father had installed in him his views on life insurance. He was a director of the company two years before he graduated. From his earliest youth he had lived in a life insurance atmosphere, and had expected to make it his life work.

During his father's illness, Jas. W. Alexander turned over to him, little by little, matters of detail. He did not receive a salary upon his first connection with the company. He was offered a salary, but declined.

Starts at $50,000.
The president and various members of the executive committee then suggested that, as he had qualified himself by two years' work, he should have a salary, and President Alexander in 1900 fixed it at $50,000.

Mr. Alexander asked if that was agreeable to him. (Hyde). In 1902 Gen. Louis Fitzgerald resigned as chairman of the finance committee and Mr. Hyde was appointed to the chairmanship. For the added responsibility falling on Mr. Hyde his salary was advanced to $75,000.

Climbs to $100,000.

His duties constantly increased in the various departments, and in 1903 his salary was made $100,000, at which it remained until his resignation last spring. The witness never spoke to any of the officers or members of the executive committee or in any way suggested an increase in his salary.

Mr. Hyde was asked if he was willing to serve the company at $75,000 salary, and he replied that he was, and he caused a laugh by remarking that he "did not think he could get it anywhere else."

A list of Mr. Hyde's directorships, also his personal stockholdings in companies in which the Equitable was interested, was presented and introduced in evidence. Mr. Hughes said it was not his purpose to go over the matter covered by Superintendent Hendrick's report. Mr. Hyde was asked if money could be obtained on his voucher without it coming under the notice of any other officer. Witness said it could be done, and that this method was put into effect by an order of the president.

Squire Account.

Mr. Hyde knew only by hearsay of the Geo. H. Squire, trustee account. The syndicate to float the $50,000,000 International Mercantile Marine company was the syndicate in which Mr. Alexander asked Mr. Hyde to give G. H. Squire, trustee, a participation from the share of "J. H. Hyde and associates." His attention as vice president of the Equitable Trust company was never called to the Squire account. He did not know of what Mr. Squire was trustee and never inquired why Mr. Alexander wanted him to give Geo. H. Squire, trustee, a participation. Mr. Hyde said he received a salary of $5,000 when he became vice president of the Equitable Trust company, and in 1903 this was advanced to $12,000.

Mysterious $685,000.
Mr. Hyde said that the objects of the mysterious $685,000 loan by the Mercantile Trust Company to the Equitable Life Assurance Society were to buy off inconvenient suits, to buy up stock of the Equitable as it came into the market, and to make political contributions. Mr. Hyde said the only political contribution of which he knew was that of $25,000 to Cornelius N. Bliss, chairman of the republican national committee, in the last presidential campaign. This contribution was solicited by H. C. Frick, said Mr. Hyde.

Last summer, when the banking department called for the repayment of the $685,000 and the Equitable Life repudiated it, Mr. Hyde said Mr. Hyde said Mr. Alexander and Mr. Jordan raised as much as they could and then he, Hyde, made up the balance, $212,000. He said he thought he was generous in this, as he had not received any benefit from the loan.

STATE LOSES

CANNOT GIVE REVENUE LAWS EXTRA TERRITORIAL EFFECT

Says the Supreme Court—Union Refrigerator Transit Company is Upheld in Contention.

Washington, Nov. 14.—The Union Refrigerator Transit company won in the Supreme court in its fight to resist the taxing power of the Commonwealth of Kentucky. The court, in a very forcible opinion, upholds the contention of Alexander Humphreys and William H. Field, that the state of Kentucky cannot give its revenue laws extra territorial effect. A recent case is cited by the supreme court as completely covering the question under consideration. It is the case of the Louisville Ferry company versus State of Kentucky. It was held in that case that the franchise granted by the Commonwealth of Kentucky did not bring the Indiana franchise within the jurisdiction of Kentucky for the purpose of taxation, such tax amounting to deprivation of property without due process of law. The supreme court says: "The adoption of a general rule that tangible personal property in other states may be taxed at the domicile of the owner, involves possibilities of an extremely serious character."

The court holds that the cars of the Transit company in question, as far as located in other states than Kentucky, are not subject to the taxing power of that commonwealth. The judgment of the Kentucky court of appeals is reversed. Chief Justice Fuller and Justice Holmes dissented. The court dismissed for want of jurisdiction the case of the Citizens' National bank against the Commonwealth of Kentucky, involving the taxing of the bank stock in Boyle county.

WILL FIGHT

RAILROAD MEN TO FILE EARNEST PROTEST AGAINST RATE LEGISLATION.

They Appeal to the President Openly and Will Appeal to Congress Privately.

Washington, Nov. 14.—An earnest protest was made to the president today against proposed railroad freight rate legislation. The protest was filed by representatives of the five great labor organizations connected with railroading—the engineers, firemen, conductors, switchmen and trainmen. The members of the delegation which called on the president represented the several organizations. They pointed out to him that railroad rate legislation logically meant the lowering of rates. This, they contended, will be followed by a lessening of the earning power of railroads, and, consequently, by reduction eventually of the wages of railroad employees.

Argument in Howard Case.
Washington, D. C., Nov. 14.—Argument in the James B. Howard case was concluded yesterday before the Supreme court of the United States.

IS AFRAID TO GO

Czar Does Not Think St. Petersburg Healthy Now

RETURNS TO THE TSARKOE-SELO.

Belief That Moral Effect of Failure To Be on Ground to Aid Count Witte Will Be Bad.

POLES WORKING FOR THEIR AUTONOMY.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 14.—Emperor Nicholas and the Russian court will not come to St. Petersburg this winter. A short time ago it was announced that the emperor was about to return to the winter palace in an annex of which Count Witte has installed himself, but his majesty has now decided to go from Peterhof back to Tsarkoe-Selo, where he has been living for almost two years, with the exception of the last months spent at Peterhof. Except on the occasion of the ceremony of blessing the waters last January, when the emperor narrowly escaped death, owing to a mysterious charge of grape being fired in the direction of the imperial party by a saluting battery, the emperor has not stepped inside the winter palace for over eighteen months.

Decision Unfortunate.
His decision not to come to the capital is regarded as unfortunate, not only for its moral effect, but because and keep him surrounded by court influences, and out of close, immediate touch with Count Witte, who at the present time should have daily, almost hourly conference with the emperor. Members of his majesty's entourage have strongly advised against the emperor being in St. Petersburg when the national assembly meets, as well as on account of the danger of popular disorders at the capital this winter, recalling to the emperor's mind, not without effect, the fatal results of Louis XVI. agreeing to leave Versailles and place himself at the mercy of the populace of Paris in 1793.

Poles Working Hard.
The Polish delegation here is working hard to secure the co-operation of the liberals, social democrats and workmen's organizations for another general political strike in aid of the Poles' battle for autonomy, but thus far, while they have met with much sympathy, no action has been taken for their assistance. Count Witte, whom the deputation saw, was extremely firm, declaring emphatically that the government would do nothing for Poland under compulsion and that martial law would not be abolished until the separatist movement ceases. The premier declared that the most the Poles could expect in addition to the rights granted under the reform manifesto, was a separate general zemstvo for Poland and municipal government.

The Polish delegates say that over 7,000 Polish prisoners are languishing in the jails of Warsaw.

The Radical Press.

The radical press today is not sparing in the denunciation of the government's action in putting all Poland under martial law, declaring that it is a plain violation of the reform manifesto, but it is evident that the government has recovered its nerve, and is determined to use severe measures if necessary to restore order.

The agitation throughout the country at the exceptional powers conferred on the aides-de-camp of the emperor, who will be dispatched to the central provinces where agrarian disorders are spreading, is proof of this. At the same time half a dozen governors, including the governors of Odessa, Tomsk and Kazan, who signally failed to prevent disorders, have been summarily dismissed at Count Witte's instigation.

The Clergy at Work.

The clergy, with other classes, continue their intercessions for the Czar and his family. A hundred orthodox priests at a meeting held at the residence of the Metropolitan Antonius, formulated and dispatched an appeal for mercy to the emperor.

A number of army officials, indignant at the action of Lieutenant Proloff, of the imperial horse guards, who recently sabred Prof. Tarle, of the Polytechnic institute, have joined in a proposal to boycott Proloff and all the other officers of the horse guards unless the lieutenant clears himself of the charge or resigns within a month. They have addressed a letter to a local paper asking for the co-operation of their brother officers in their action.

Blow to Ohio Sports.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 14.—The Ohio anti-gambling statute was upheld in an opinion handed down in the Supreme court of the United States by Justice Peckham in the case of William Marvin vs. Belle Trout.

Hart to Meet Ruhl.

Louisville, Nov. 14.—Marvin Hart, the pugilist, when shown the announcement made by Gus Ruhl that the latter would claim the heavyweight championship relinquished by Jeffries, simply reiterated his willingness to meet Ruhl or any other heavyweight, negroes barred, before any club offering a suitable purse. Hart and Ruhl have fought twice, six rounds in Philadelphia, where no decisions are given, and a twelve-round draw at Baltimore.

RETURNING HOME

TAFT AND PARTY HAVE PASSED THE VIRGINIA CAPES.

Should be at Home in Washington Early This Morning Without Accident.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 14.—The United States cruiser Columbia, Commander J. M. Boyer commanding, passed in the capes of Virginia at 7 o'clock this morning bearing homeward. Secretary of War Taft and party en route from the Isthmus of Panama, where the secretary has been on an inspection tour. The Columbia, sailed from Colon November 7, and after a brief stop at the United States naval station at Guantanamo, Cuba, left that place on Friday last, proceeding direct for Hampton Roads.

INSPECTION TRAIN

EXPECTED TO ARRIVE HERE OVER THE I. C. ON FRIDAY.

Some Changes Already Being Made, Preparatory for Operation of Tennessee Central.

It is expected that day after tomorrow the general inspection train for the Illinois Central railroad will arrive here making its tour over the system. Aboard the train are the roadmasters and superintendents of all the divisions and they are minutely inspecting the track and roadbed in the close manner followed each year. From here they pass on up the Louisville division, which has won the prize for many consecutive years for being the best strip of track on the entire system.

Tennessee Central.

The I. C. officials in arranging to inaugurate use of their leased line, the Tennessee Central, December 1, have commenced arranging to shift some of the train crews. Conductor Robert Daws now runs the accommodation passenger train between Hopkinsville and Cairo, but has been notified that after December 1st he will be stationed at Nashville, Tenn., as headquarters. This means he will have a train over the Tennessee Central after this line is started into operation under the lease to the I. C. Other conductors and engineers will be shifted around, some.

Material Clerk.

Mr. K. O. Grassham, who moved here from Smithland this accepted the position of material clerk in the office of Master Mechanic Turnbull at the local shops.

To Another Division.

Yesterday engines Nos. 12 and 30 were sent from here to the Waterloo, Iowa division to be used hereafter, the 800 class of new engines coming here for the Louisville division displacing these smaller ones. Engineer E. Johnson left in charge of the two engines en route.

Firemen Promoted.

Firemen S. E. Bonner and J. R. Brown, of this district, have been promoted to engineers and placed on the extra list.

MAY USE RESERVE

Ruling Regarded as Revolutionary is Made by SECRETARY SHAW AND UPSETS TRADITIONS.

Holds That Reserve Fund Is Intended to Meet Just Such Periods Of

MONETARY STRINGENCY AS PRESENT ONE.

Washington, Nov. 14.—Secretary of the Treasury Shaw reiterated yesterday his belief, expressed in New York last week, that money was plentiful enough in this country for legitimate commercial interests and that he did not propose to go to the relief of speculative interests which had forced up the price of loans in that city.

Although Secretary Shaw would deem it advisable, if occasion required, to use as much as $50,000,000 of the $70,000,000 treasury working balance to help banks over the hard places due to the autumnal money demand, he would view with approval the use by national banks of a portion of their surplus reserve.

A most important interpretation has been given to the banking law by the secretary. It is sure to evoke much discussion.

Mr. Shaw regards the reserve as intended to meet periods of monetary stringency. He is so firm in his belief that it is proper for national banks to dip into this reserve that he will not permit the closure for this season of any bank which, having used a part of its reserve, manifests its purpose to replenish it when money is more plentiful.

If a bank which has used its reserve in part indulges in loose business methods and fails to make up the reserve, the secretary may then close that bank.

Many bankers have been advised of Secretary Shaw's attitude. Their trouble with this method of loosening the currency system to meet the varying demands of commercial conditions is the general banking belief that the reserve should remain intact under all conditions. Rivals of a bank which encroaches upon its reserve are usually disposed to point out the fact as an evidence of imprudent banking methods, with the result that depositors withdraw their accounts.

For this reason Secretary Shaw's position that surplus reserves of national banks may with propriety be drawn upon is considered revolutionary.

Secretary Shaw's view is that, as the law places in the discretion of the secretary of the treasury the only action against a bank which reduces its reserve, he is undoubtedly empowered to exercise his discretion as to closing the bank.

To make his position clear and to encourage expression of conservative business opinion, Secretary Shaw had this statement issued by the treasury department today: "Secretary Shaw has not yet decided to come to the relief of the money market. He authorizes the statement that he will not suffer. Thus far no productive business interests, manufacturer, transporter, merchant or banker has asked him. He will not come to the relief of speculation. Should any business concern be denied deserved credit at reasonable rates the secretary wants to know the facts. He believes the majority of New York loans are still made at or below 6 per cent. Call money and speculation long-time money—in other words, market money, as distinguished from customers' money—is higher."

NOW AT REST

THE LAST TRIBUTE TO Y. M. C. A'S FOUNDER.

Sir George Williams Buried Beneath the Dome of St. Paul's in London.

London, Nov. 14.—The body of the founder and president of the Young Men's Christian Association, Sir George Williams, who died November 6, was buried beneath the dome of St. Paul's cathedral today in the presence of an immense throng of mourners, including a hundred ministers of various denominations. Nearly a thousand delegates from British and foreign branches of the Young Men's Christian Association and other organizations with which Sir George was connected and the Lord Mayor and Sheriffs in their robes of state. The general public filled the rest of the cathedral to its full capacity. The service which was conducted by Archbishop Sinclair was fully choral.

The funeral procession through the streets was very impressive. Two hundred and thirty carriages followed the hearse.

Sympathetic cable dispatches were received from Prince Oscar Bernadotte, James Stokes of New York, and hosts of others, while wreaths were sent from all parts of the world.

SMALL FLAME.

Several Hundred Dollar Loss at the Billings' Printing House.

Yesterday morning shortly before 12 o'clock fire started at the Ben Billings printing establishment, on Broadway near Second street, and caused a $200 damage to building and stock. A defective flue caused the wood-work between the second floor ceiling and roof to ignite and start the blaze which was quickly extinguished by the fire departments. The loss is fully covered with insurance.

LAYING BRICK

THE KENTUCKY AVENUE WORK BEING PUSHED BY CONTRACTORS.

Board of Works Holds Meeting This Afternoon—Gunboat Invitation Now Being Framed.

The labors of Contractor Bridges are now laying brick at First and Kentucky avenue and working their way westward on that thoroughfare. It is believed they can have all the brick down by the last of next week, as good working days are now being enjoyed and there is nothing to interrupt the progress being made.

Over on Jefferson street the men have started excavating for the paving brick work, which will be taken up just as soon as the avenue brick are all down.

Board of Works.
This afternoon the board of public works holds its regular weekly meeting, but there are no questions of particular importance before them.

Gunboat Invitation.

City Clerk Henry Bailey and City Auditor Alexander Kirkland are now framing up the official invitation which they will send to the secretary of the navy requesting that the gunboat Paducah come here next spring for an official visit, to accept the silver service set to be presented her officers and crew. The municipal legislative boards authorized the clerk and auditor to send forward the invitation, which is one official from the city.

PARADE TODAY.

Printers and Bricklayers Will Not Take Part in Procession.

This afternoon the big parade will be held by the organized labor unions of this city, out of sympathy for the striking street car motemen and conductors.

In another column it will be seen that the printers say they will not take part in the parade, while the bricklayers' union also requests The Register to say they will not participate in same either.

Arm Broken.

Driver W. Y. Robertson, of the Paducah Brewery delivery wagon, is confined at his home, 809 Harrison street, with a broken right arm near the elbow. Monday night while driving rapidly through the streets Robertson collided with the light vehicle of Mr. W. Derrington and the accident threw the brewery wagon driver from his vehicle seat to the hard street, where his arm was broken. It was set by Dr. Jeff Robertson.

Recital for Students.

The pupils of the high school at the Washington building were yesterday morning entertained with a musical recital by Prof. Harry Gilbert, who rendered them a number of fine pieces at the building. On Tuesday addresses have been made to the students by different prominent people. This was the first musical recital for them, and will probably be repeated often.

Messrs. George Bondurant and Harry and Roy Judd have returned from a hunt near Wickliffe.

INSURANCE MEN

INSPECTOR FOR TWO STATES WILL BE CHOSEN TODAY AT LOUISVILLE.

City Electrician Gilsdorf Is a Candidate for Place—Commissioner Rose Resumed Inspections.

Today at the Galt House in Louisville there will be held a meeting by the Kentucky and Tennessee board of fire underwriters at which time there will be accepted the resignation of Mr. Gano, the former electrical inspector, whose duties were to go over these two states for the insured companies and see that the electrical wire connections entering every building were maintained on the schedule adopted by the underwriters. Mr. Gano resigned his place several months ago, but the officials put off selecting his successor until their annual meeting today. City Electrician Gilsdorf, of this city, is an applicant for the position, and from many quarters it is believed he will be chosen, as when made the official inspector for this city, he was chosen on recommendation of the fire insurance companies composing the K. and T. board. It was at the instance of the insurance concerns that the place of city electrician was created, and then Mr. Gilsdorf selected.

At today's gathering in Louisville there also comes up the question of electing president, board of directors, executive committee and secretary for the K. and T. board.

Inspections Resumed.

Commissioner C. C. Rose, of the fire insurance bureau of this city, has resumed his inspections of buildings over the city and yesterday was engaged on South Second street in this undertaking, looking through the respective business houses, seeing that they were in a good and clean condition.

FIFTEEN CENTS FOR COTTON

Mr. Jordan Advises Farmers to Hold What They Have For That.

Atlanta, Ga., November 14.—President Harvie Jordan of the Southern Cotton association, in an interview this morning says:

"The open declaration of Secretary Wilson of the department of agriculture that the recent condition report of 68.8 is 'accurate and trustworthy' and which shows that the year's crop will be in the neighborhood of only ten million bales, should knock out all high estimates and put everybody down on the working basis of a short crop. Secretary Wilson's estimate confirms the report made by this association some time ago, predicting a crop of about 10,000,000 bales. As this report is confirmed by accurate sources, it is unquestionable that the remainder of the crop now in the hands of the planters should not be marketed for less than 15 cents a pound, shall at once issue a proclamation advising this course."

Sir Alfred Harmsworth, the London newspaper man, has added another to his long list of publications, in purchasing the London World.

PUT UP BELL

SUPERINTENDENT HOYER WILL PUT SCHOOL BELL UP TODAY.

The Drafts at the McKinley Building Are Being Rearranged So as to Give More Heat.

This morning Superintendent Fred Hoyer of buildings for the public schools, will hang the bell that goes in the cupola for the new McKinley building in Mechanicsburg. The bell is the old one which hung for years at the old market house at Second and Broadway. When the frame market was torn down and the present one put up, there was no longer necessity for the old bell and Marketmaster Frank Smedley presented it to the school trustees for the Mechanicsburg building. It is in first-class condition and will be used in calling the children to school and also announcing the recess and other hours.

Mr. Hoyer today will start to arrange things in the heating draft at this building so that so much of the heat will not go upstairs in the rooms on that floor. The top rooms have not been finished for use, the lower floor being the only quarters used by the pupils. The present arrangements of the drafts are of such a nature that most of the heat goes upstairs where it is not needed, while the lower floor rooms suffer thereby.

Tomorrow work will be started of laying the plank walk from the school house over to Bridge street, so the children can use same during the muddy periods of the coming winter. It will be about 90 or 100 feet long and three feet in width.

WEST LEADS IN OIL PRODUCTION.

For First Time More Oil West of Mississippi River—Official Figures.

Washington, November 14.—According to a report issued by the Geological Survey the total output of crude petroleum in the United States in 1904 was 117,603,421 barrels. The total value of all the petroleum marketed in the United States in 1904 was $101,170,466. The gain over the production of 1903 was 16,602,084 barrels in quantity and $6,476,416 in value.

For the first time in the history of the petroleum industry the quantity of oil produced west of the Mississippi river was greater than that produced east of that river. New pools were discovered during 1904 in Texas, California, Kansas, Indian Territory and Oklahoma, and many extensions were made to the old fields. An immense section, beginning in Southeastern Kansas and extending southwestward into Northern Indian Territory and Oklahoma, now over 180 miles in length and fifty miles in width, was proved to be locally productive of petroleum and natural gas. The report says that all indications point to an increase in the production of petroleum in the United States for a series of years. The increased demand for petroleum in this country is attributed to the use of that article in automobiles.

BOTH DISMISSED

EMMA TURNER AND FLOYD HARRIS RELEASED IN POLICE COURT.

Eva Johnson and Adeline Morton, Colored, Given Continuance Until Today of Robbery Charge.

In the police court yesterday morning Emma Turner was dismissed of the case charging her with maliciously cutting Floyd Harris, while the latter was dismissed of the breach of the peace charge against him. They had trouble out about Ninth and Washington streets.

Eva Johnson and Adeline Morton, negroes, were given postponements until today of the case charging them with robbing John Rudolph, of the county, of about $20 out about Ninth and Washington streets.

Will Childress and Warner Williams were given continuances until next Tuesday of the proceeding charging him with swearing falsely in a case.

There was left over until today the case accusing Ed Fari's of being drunk and disorderly.

Herman Matthews, colored, was held to the grand jury on the charge of cutting Cliff Bidwell, colored, year before last at Ninth and Boyd streets.

Will Pool was held to the grand jury on the charge of petty larceny.

REFORMS ARE URGED.

In Manner Celebrating Thanksgiving and Football Games Given Roast.

Chicago, Nov. 14.—Dr. Frank W. Gunsalus, in announcing to Central church congregation yesterday that Thanksgiving services are to be held at the Auditorium, took occasion to denounce the custom of playing football on the day of thanks. He said:

"Let us combine the cross of Christ with the flag of our country in an old-fashioned way. I beseech you, each one of you, to be here and by your presence set up a protest against the spirit of commercialism and frivolity that is coming to be fought by the holiday. It may be some of you will stay away to attend the football game—that disgrace to the history of this day and the spirit of thanksgiving that is coming to be fought by the preceptors and faculties of our schools and colleges."

FEVERISH STOCK MARKET IN NEW YORK

New York, Nov. 13.—The disclosure of the deficit in the bank reserves shown in Saturday's bank statement resulted in a feverish stock market today, and in early dealings there were declines of from 1 to 7 1/2; the latter Delaware, Lackawanna & Western. Reading sold down 4 1/2, and a number of other 2 to 2 1/2.

Call money was higher today, 20 per cent. being bid before 11 o'clock. At that time it was reported that the banks had lost $68,000 to the sub-treasury since last Friday.

Land Here for Visit.

Mr. Grover Land, the baseball catcher, arrived here Sunday from Frankfort to visit "Red" Bohannon a few days before going to Florida to spend the winter with Weldon South, another ball player well known here. Land says his Toledo, Ohio, team will train here next spring, preparatory to the season. He catches for them.

"Winter baseball" was officially opened at Bob Wathen's yesterday with a reunion of Kitty players. Included in the bunch were Grover Land, Dickie Brahic, "Red" Bohannon, Kinney Murray, "Skeets" Hedges, Eddie Taylor, Catcher Lemon and a few amateurs. The boys all seemed to have their batting eyes.

MANY OF PERSECUTED JEWS WILL LIVE IN UNITED STATES.

Fund to Relieve Distress of the Hebrews in Russia is Growing—Contributions General.

New York, Nov. 14.—Jacob H. Schiff, at the annual meeting of the educational alliance last night, referred to the conditions in Russia, and also spoke of the Jewish race. He said:

"The turmoil in Russia must have some serious consequences to the United States. It will mean an immense immigration, and this country must keep its doors wide open to allow those who flee from that country to enter. The Jew has a large and generous heart for those afflicted, and will aid greatly hospitals and like institutions.

"There are many races of the Jew, five or six at least. The few races cross in this country, and they will unite in making the greatest Jew that ever existed, the American Jew. 'If we want this, we must do our duty to that race, and in the end the world will get the benefit.'

WILL KEEP HANDS OFF.

Germany Will Not Interfere in the Case of Poland.

Berlin, Nov. 14.—The attention of the foreign office was called today to the belief held in St. Petersburg that an agreement exists whereby Germany and Austria would assist Russia if it became necessary to suppress a movement for Polish autonomy. The foreign office says nothing of the kind has occurred and that nothing of that nature will occur. Emperor William has had no communication on the subject with Emperor Nicholas or the Russian government.

The Polish question so far as Germany is concerned, does not exist outside of Germany. If, however, Russian Poles rise up and the movement for Polish autonomy spreads to the Polish provinces of Prussia, the latter will firmly suppress it in the Prussian Polish provinces. But Russia must manage her own difficulties, as it is the fixed policy of Germany not to interfere in the internal affairs of her neighbors.

DISTRIBUTION OF SEEDS.

Thirty-Eight Million Packages to Be Given Away.

Washington, Nov. 14.—The annual distribution of vegetable and flower seeds by the department of agriculture will begin on December 1, and before planting time it is expected the entire amount aggregating 38,000,000 packages, will be in the hands of the people in all sections of the country. Congress for the past several years has appropriated $200,000 for this purpose, but a portion of the amount is used for foreign experiment work and other kindred matters.

TOOL OF A POWERFUL GANG

Are Willard Bank Robbers in Opinion of Officers.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 13.—Heavily manacled and closely guarded by six officers, under Sheriff George Jacobs, of Carter county, the men alleged to have robbed the bank at Willard, Carter county, last week, were brought to this city last night and lodged in jail, where they will be kept confined until called for trial at Grayson the latter part of this month.

The prisoners were Stephen and Charles Stamper, of Cincinnati; Thomas Brown, of Athens, Tenn.; John Allen, of Knoxville, Tenn.; and Joe Hall, of Covington, Ky., all of whom were arrested shortly after the robbery by Sheriff Jacobs and Post-office Inspector Speers. While the men were confined in the Grayson jail the city Marshal of Hagerstown, Ind., visited the jail and recognized Brown and D. J. Rodderick, the man who killed by the Willard citizens, as being two of the men who were in Hagerstown the night on which the bank there was robbed of several thousand dollars.

All of the men under arrest appear to be between twenty-five and thirty years of age, with the exception of Brown who looks to be about thirty-five years old, and it is the opinion of Sheriff Jacobs that they are only tools of an organized gang which operates out of Cincinnati.

MANY SEEK $12,000 OFFICE.

Large Fees Attract Big Field in Iowa Traveling Men's Contest.

Eldora, Iowa, Nov. 14.—Plenty of candidates are in the field for the $12,000 state secretaryship of the Iowa State Traveling men's association and as the election is to take place the 20th of this month a great many will attend the meeting. There are now over 4,000 members of the association and 10,000 of these members are residents of Iowa. The fee is 50 cents per member per year to the secretary, and the $12,000 job is considered "juicy."

BOSTON COMPLACENT OVER ELECTION OF NEW PROSECUTOR

THOUGH HIS CAMPAIGN AGAINST THE COMBINED DEMOCRATIC AND REPUBLICAN MACHINES WAS REGARDED AS A JOKE, CITY DOES NOT SEEM TO REGRET HIS UNEXPECTED SUCCESS—HE ABANDONS LAW PRACTICE WORTH $15,000 A YEAR TO REFORM THE PROSECUTOR'S OFFICE—SAYS HE WILL HAVE BUT ONE TERM—IS AN ATHLETE, A MAN OF BROAD SYMPATHIES AND INTERESTS, AND A BORN FIGHTER.

PLATFORM ON WHICH MORAN WON HIS TRIUMPH

Moran's platform was as striking as is the man's personality. Day after day, in the Boston daily papers, he advertised that if elected he would guarantee:

Official freedom from politicians and grafters.

Official action with the Grand Jury immediately on receipt of information. No intimidation of jurors by reasonless challenges.

No intimacy, social or otherwise, with jurors.

Fair treatment to all lawyers. No withholding of evidence favorable to defendants.

Rigid enforcement of law against grafters and bribees.

Lenient treatment for trivial offenders, with the idea of reformation. Justice, tempered with mercy, for all.

In his advertisements and speeches Mr. Moran declared that his opponent, the nominee of the Democratic and Republican machines, would not guarantee these things.

Boston, Nov. 12.—"The folk and Jerome of Boston" is what John B. Moran, elected district attorney of Suffolk county, proclaims himself to be, after a campaign in which he fought alone the Democratic and Republican city and county machines, and was elected by a majority of 4,449 over Michael J. Sughrue, who had both party nominations, the support of the Suffolk county bar and the "respectable" element in local politics.

Alone and unaided, Mr. Moran, who is a well-known lawyer, fought one of the hardest and most sensational battles, as to results, ever known in local politics. He had no campaign headquarters, no treasury, no speakers.

To offset the first, he established headquarters in his law office. For the second, he paid his expenses, hired halls, etc., out of his own pocket, even going so far as to mortgage a life insurance endowment policy for $4,000 to pay campaign bills. For the third, he was his own speaker.

Held Nightly Rallies.

He held rallies night after night and spoke at all of them. He had no preceding officer and no imposing list of vice presidents. All the people came for was to hear Moran and he dispensed with the other accessories. One reason for this was that few, if any, of the politicians of either party cared to associate themselves with his campaign, for not one of them supposed for a moment he was going to win.

It is not unusual to win out on an independent ticket in Boston. But to sweep a normal Democratic majority of 23,000, against an opponent having the nominations of both parties, both secured fairly and squarely in delegation conventions, is an extraordinary feat. Mr. Moran did this and did it alone.

Paid for Newspaper Ads.

Unaided by a single newspaper or a machine of any kind, with no help from friends, or associates without a solitary stump speaker, and opposed by the Bar association, with its 859 lawyers, he took the stump, paid for his own halls, opened his own meetings, advocated his election single-handed and wrote and paid for his own advertisements, many of which were refused by the newspapers because of the sweeping charges he made against men in high official position.

Every newspaper in the city thought his campaign was a joke, and gave his rallies only the briefest mention. His opponent, one of the most popular lawyers and officials in the city and of the very highest reputation, and the party managers also took his campaign as a joke and did not even go to the trouble of countering his rallies or answering his charges.

No one, excepting Mr. Moran and a few tried friends, counted upon his securing more than 1,000 votes, although he had personally secured 4,000 signatures to his nomination papers.

To say the party managers and Mr. Moran's opponent were surprised on election night is putting it very mildly. They were overwhelmed when the returns began to come in, and could not at first realize what had happened.

Since then, however, it has been noticed that many leading Republicans and Democrats have not expressed the sorrow at Mr. Sughrue's defeat that was expected from them, things contributing to Mr. Moran's success was the desire of many of both parties to get a "whack" at the so-called county ring, composed of both Republicans and Democrats, and which has paroled out the officers and patronage of the county, the smallest but richest in the state, for years to its own satisfaction.

A modest man is Mr. Moran. On election night he took his new honors easily and announced that he would not seek re-election at the end of his term. "I'm going to emulate Roosevelt in that," he declared.

Brilliant Trial Lawyer.

Moran's personality is a most interesting one. He was born in Walefield, Mass., April 27, 1859, the son of Ellen (Brown) Moran, who had come to the United States from Ireland in 1852. He attended the Wakefield High school, Phillips, Exeter academy, Boston university law school, and after being admitted to the bar, began practice in Woburn, Mass. Soon after he removed to Boston and entered a well-known law firm, but after six years opened an office of his own.

Mr. Moran is known as a trial lawyer, and has conducted many important litigations so brilliantly as to gain him a high reputation and a large clientele. He is often retained by leading law firms as trial counsel.

He is unmarried, a member of several organizations, including the Boston Athletic association, where he is known as a clever amateur boxer. He is finely built, of medium height, somewhat unconventional in dress, but always neat, is clean shaven, has sharp brown eyes and wears glasses.

Moran Is Born Fighter.

He is known as a fighter from the drop of the hat. He has at times gone into Democratic politics, usually to fight the "machine." He fought ex-Mayor Josiah Quincy all through his term, and when the so-called teaming frauds came up, he fought hard to get at the men "higher up." In the recent gas investigation he was counsel for Thomas W. Lawson.

Mr. Moran has three hobbies. They are boxing, vaudeville and novels. He rarely misses a boxing bout in this city or near by, attends vaudeville shows regularly and reads a novel of two every day of his life.

He has income of $15,000 a year from his law business. The district attorneyship will only pay him $5,000. By devoting his entire time to the latter office during his term he will lose $10,000 a year, but he says it will be worth it.

RUSSIAN BARBARISM.

(Nashville Barmer.)

The barbarities perpetrated by the mob in Odessa, which have been a repetition of the horrors of Kishineff, and probably even of a worse nature, re-open the question whether the people of Russia can properly appreciate liberal rule and are capable of anything like self-government. These Southern Russians appear to be little less savage than were the ancient Cuthians inhabiting the same country of whom Herodotus gave such fearful accounts.

One of the principal demands made by those who have sought to obtain a new constitution from the Czar was religious liberty, but the first thought of the excited Odessa mob was to murder and outrage the Jews and pillage their houses. The mob that has done such bloody work in Odessa was composed of men who called themselves "loyalists." They marched through the streets bearing national flags, portraits and icons, singing the national hymn, and in their exuberance of loyalty and patriotism they murdered, pillaged and destroyed property.

It is difficult to determine whether this mob meant to rejoice at the granting of the new constitution or intended to protest against a change in the old order. It had the sympathy of the police, who refused to interfere with its outlaws, and was at war with the students, who endorse the liberal ideas. It is certain that no Socialist mob could have given greater demonstrations of anarchy.

People like these need strong rule. To them liberty means only license, and they are too brutal to be restrained except by the strong arm of the law forcibly exercised.

There are needed reforms in Russia and the promised new constitution is a great step forward, but it will take more than civil liberty to bring a people like these from ages of besotted ignorance and despotic rule to the level of good citizens of the Anglo-Saxon type.

The modern steam turbine was in some respects anticipated by an invention of an Italian architect, named Branca, who lived in the seventeenth century. In far more distant times the engine devised by Hero was at least a hint of the turbine which is now making headway against the familiar reciprocating steam engine.

25 YEARS OF AGONY ENDED

Boston Business Man Cured By Cuticura of Awful Humor Covering Head, Neck, and Shoulders After Hospital and Doctors Failed.

Under date of September 9, 1904, Mr. S. P. Keyes, a well-known business man of No. 149 Congress Street, Boston, Mass., says: "Cuticura did wonders for me. For twenty-five years I suffered agony from a terrible humor, completely covering my head, neck and shoulders, discharging matter of such offensiveness to sight and smell, that to my friends, and even to my wife, I became an object of dread. At large expense I consulted the most able doctors far and near. Their treatment was of no avail, nor was that of the hospital, during six months' efforts. I suffered on and concluded there was no help for this side of the grave. Then I heard of some one who had been cured by Cuticura, and thought that a trial could do no harm. In a surprisingly short time I was completely cured."

CUTICURA—THE SET, $1.

Complete Treatment for Every Humor from Pimples to Scrofula

Bathe the affected parts with hot water and Cuticura Soap, to cleanse the surface of crusts and scales and soften the thickened cuticle; dry, without hard rubbing; and apply Cuticura Ointment freely, to allay itching, irritation, and inflammation, and soothe and heal; and, lastly, take Cuticura Resolvent Pills to cool and cleanse the blood. A single set is often sufficient to cure the most torturing, disfiguring skin, scalp, and blood humors, with loss of hair, when all else fails.

Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills are sold throughout the world. Try Cuticura and Cuticura Soap, and you will know the difference.

SURVEY PROPERTY

MECHANICSBURG BUILDING AND GROUNDS TO BE DISPOSED OF.

Miss Clara Anderson Taken to Riverside Hospital for Treatment—Miss Morgan Still Out.

Secretary W. H. Pitcher, of the school board, stated yesterday that the trustees had never yet received from the city of Paducah the deed transferring the old school property in Mechanicsburg to the board of education. The city solicitor has been instructed to draw up the indenture making the transfer, but he states he cannot do it until a survey is made of the property and exact dimensions given him so he will know how to describe the property in conveying it to the school board.

Some years ago when the original Mechanicsburg public school was constructed, property was bought from Mr. Herzog and others and the deed to the ground put in the name of the city of Paducah. After that the city sold the property to the school board, but no deeds were ever made out transferring it. Now the school has put up a new building in Mechanicsburg and wants to sell the old grounds and house to J. K. Bondurant, who wants it for a Christian church mission. The deal cannot be made until the deed is made out placing the title in the name of the school board. Secretary Pitcher said yesterday he would have the property surveyed or measured right away so the deed could be made out, as they are in a hurry for same in order to close their deal with Mr. Bondurant.

Taken to Hospital.

Miss Clara Anderson was yesterday taken to the pay ward in Riverside hospital to be treated for bronchitis, with which she is suffering. She is the popular teacher of the first grade at the Washington building on West Broadway and has been confined with illness since the first of this week, and while she is away her room is being presided over by Miss Blanche Mooney, one of the high school students.

Not Yet Resumed.

The study of English in the high school has not yet been resumed because the instructor, Miss Emma Morgan, continues confined at her home with an attack of sickness. She believes she will be able to return to her duties this morning.

Last summer was a record one in Paris for tips. The porters in the museums made more out of visitors whose umbrellas and sticks they took charge of than even during the World's Fair of 1900. Attendants at the Pantheon received as much as $6.25 daily in tips of small amounts.

REBUILDING

LANGSTAFF-ORM PUTTING UP THEIR NEW SAW MILL.

It Will Take Two Months to Complete Same, and Pending That Others Will Saw Timber.

The Langstaff-Orm Manufacturing company have decided to rebuild their saw mill department, which was destroyed by fire ten nights ago, and work of reconstructing the plant has already been started, but it will be about two months before everything is completed and that department placed in operation. In the meantime the firm has made arrangements with another of the local milling establishments to saw their timber and supply them until the sawmill branch is ready to resume.

Mr. Lineus Orme, the head Sawyer for Langstaff-Orm, has returned from St. Louis, where he went several days ago and purchased the new machinery and saws for the new sawmill. The outfit will commence arriving immediately and be installed as quickly as possible. The fire came at quite an opportune time, if that character of time could occur with a blaze. In this instance it came when the firm had a large supply of building material on hand, and then winter is about here and the building rush is over, therefore the supply here, as at other local places, is not drawn on very heavily, therefore plenty of time exists for rebuilding, before the spring rush comes on.

CLARK EXPECTS NATIONAL VICTORY.

Says Democrats Will Elect House Hands Down Next Year. Incoming Out on Lecture Tour of the South.

(St. Louis Republic.) Congressman Champ Clark takes a most rosy view of political situation in the United States as far as the Democratic party is concerned.

The result of the elections, state and city, held last week, are fully of encouragement to Democracy in the opinion of Congressman Clark, who started yesterday on a lecture tour of the South that will end in New England in time for the distinguished Missourian to arrive in Washington for the opening of congress.

At the Laclede hotel Congressman Clark talked at length of the chances of Democracy in a national way, "It looks mighty good to me," sums up the view of the Missouri representative, who was temporary chairman of the last National Democratic convention.

"What is your opinion of the effect of the late elections on national party affairs?" was a question suggested to Mr. Clark.

"The result of Tuesday's elections suggest to me two leading thoughts," was the reply. "First, the Democracy is recovering from the trouncing it received last year and is beginning to sit up and take notice. History has a way of repeating itself. In 1872 Horaces Greeley was defeated even more decisively than was Judge Parker. Yet in 1874 the Democrats elected a House of representatives by an overwhelming majority, and in 1876 elected Samuel Jones Tilden president by large majorities in the electoral college and of the popular vote.

"If there had been a general election last Tuesday we would have elected a Democratic House hands down, in spite of the Republican gerrymandering of almost every Northern state, and there is scarcely a shadow of a doubt that that is precisely what we will do next year."

"Second, the independent voter who was so largely in evidence last year was more so this year. That recent exposures of extravagance, recklessness and crime by divers persons holding fiduciary positions of vast importance has much to do with swelling the army of independent voters is beyond cavil. For instance the collapse of the Pittsburg bank at exactly the psychological moment probably caused 100,000 men to vote for the Democratic candidate for treasurer of Pennsylvania thereby electing him."

"Democrats will eat their Thanksgiving dinner this year in a much more cheerful frame of mind and with much better appetite than they did in the melancholy days of last November."

Industrial Insurance.

The insurance investigation going on in New York has developed much of interest to "small" insurers, as well as large insurers. What is known as industrial insurance has received an airing as well as the mismanagement of the big companies. Relative to the airing given industrial insurance and just what this "airing" means, the Nashville Banner pertinently says:

"What is known as industrial insurance is of questionable legitimacy, considered as a business, and the public scrutiny of its details brought about by the New York investigation has made its doubtful features more apparent still.

"The Metropolitan Life Insurance company of New York, into whose affairs the legislative committee has been recently making inquiry, is one of the industrial companies, probably the wealthiest and most respectable of the kind in the country, and some of the facts that President Hegeman's testimony has revealed about its methods are not reassuring.

"Industrial insurance is the taking of policies for small sums among laboring people on monthly or weekly payments. It is extended to the lives of children in order to defray their possible funeral expenses or for the profit the parents or guardians may get from children's deaths if the sum be sufficiently large. This form of insurance has become very popular among the negroes of the south, who are constantly solicited by the agents of companies doing that kind of business.

"In 1903 the three companies which did the largest business in industrial insurance, the Metropolitan, the Prudential and the John Hancock, had together in force 13,759,580 policies, amounting to $7,880,187,079. According to the testimony of President Hegeman, the industrial policies of the Metropolitan alone now amount to $1,127,889,229.

"Any person 2 years or over may be insured, and policies on many children are issued. The usual premium for a policy on a child under 9 years old is 10 cents per week. The benefits vary with the age at which the child is insured and the time the policy runs. If the child be insured at 2 years and dies within the next three months the policy is worth $16. If it be insured at 2 and live to be 9—the maximum age of insurance for children—the policy becomes worth $240. If only 5 cents per week be paid the minimum possible benefit for children is $8 and the maximum $120. The weekly premiums on adults—that is, on persons between 10 and 70—vary from 5 to 70 cents, and the benefits range from $13 to $852, varying with the age of the insured and the length of time the policy runs. The average value of policies in the Metropolitan in 1903 was $147; in the Prudential $119.

"Though the premiums in this insurance is small in the amounts paid at one time, in the aggregate they are largely out of proportion to the cost of ordinary life insurance, which the New York investigations have served to show are too high. There is a measure of benevolence in bringing insurance within the reach of laboring people, but those who extend the favor reap a rich harvest for their pains. The cost on a small policy of a hundred or so dollars is more than double that of ordinary life insurance, and the policies forfeited greatly outnumber those of the regular kind. There are no dividends to policy holders. The plan is that of straight insurance. Nothing is returned except in the event of death.

"According to the testimony of President Hegeman, a sum of more than fifty million dollars was collected from the policy holders of his company last year and a little in excess of $16,000,000 returned to beneficiaries. This was the entire business of the company, that is not exclusively industrial, but the bulk of the income came from the collection of the weekly payments on small policies. It at any rate indicates the ratio of income and expenditure. In the same year the amount paid out in salaries and commissions was $20,000,000. The president's salary has been increased from $4,000 in 1877 to $100,000 last year. But he declares that he is satisfied with $90,000, and did not ask for and will not draw the last raise of $10,000 a year which the directors voted him.

"These figures mean that a large number of poor people contribute out of their hard-earned wages to make a few rich men still richer. If it is not robbery it smacks very strongly of extortion, and the child insurance feature is of questionable morality.

"The working people, as a class, are ingenious and many are untutored. This is especially true of the southern negroes, among whom the agents of the industrial insurance companies are constantly at work. They deserve the protection of the law against wrong and extortion. Of course they should have the privilege of insurance within their means, but the practice of drawing large sums from the aggregate of their small earnings for the enrichment of a few should cease. Industrial insurance affects many more people than regular life insurance and reaches the class that most especially needs the protection of the law. It should be properly regulated."

November Meteors.

This is the usual time of the year when an unusual number of meteors are expected to be seen in the heavens. The earth at this time is said to be nearer the meteor swarm known as the "Leonids," but this year, as in many years, those who look for an exhibition of "shooting stars" may be disappointed. The "famous" shower of stars of 1833 has never been repeated, although there have since that time been some wonderful meteoric manifestations. The Philadelphia Public Ledger says of the looked-for November shower of this year:

"Elaborate preparations to count this misnamed 'shooting stars,' to photograph their flight and trace their 'radiant,' and to photograph their spectra have been made, notably at the great observatories, but the effect will be materially negative by the nightlong presence of a brilliant moon. The 'Leonids' are among the swiftest of the meteoric families, which number a hundred 'radiants,' for the earth meets them practically directly, while their tints are that of light green, shading into blue.

"It is, of course, to be understood that the 'radiant' is only a matter of perspective and has nothing whatever to do with the constellation whose name it bears, the meteors being tenants of the solar system, and revolving, like the earth, in regular orbits about the sun. The meteors that play conspicuously about the 27th or 28th of the month, of red tint and short train, are entitled 'Andromedids' because they seem to emanate from a point within the constellation Andromeda; but they are sometimes known as 'Bleids,' because they are generally believed to be the debris of the comet discovered by Bleia in 1826, which, after performing several circuits of the sun, divided and finally disappeared."

The New York Voting.

It appears that many of the Hearst supporters in New York voted for Jerome for district attorney. A correspondent of the New York Times gives an analysis of the vote cast in the Second Election district of the Ninth assembly district to show a sample of the complexity of the voting. He says:

"The total vote for the three candidates for mayor was, McClellan 133, Hearst 100, Ivins 78. Six of these votes were nullified, as far as the district attorney was concerned, according to the ruling of the inspectors, for having crosses in both the party and Jerome circles. Of the six ballots not counted for Jerome three were cast for Ivins and Jerome, two for McClellan and Jerome, and one for Hearst and Jerome. The total vote for the leading candidates for district attorney was, Jerome 148, Osborne 99, and Shearn 50. Jerome's total of 148 was made up as follows: 'Straight' Jerome, 2; socialist, 1; prohibition, 1; Stokes and Jerome, 1; Ivins and Jerome, 63; Hearst and Jerome, 48; McClellan and Jerome, 32.

"An analysis of the vote of the leading mayoralty candidates in respect to the vote for district attorney showed the following results: Ivins' total vote of 78 consisted of 63 for himself and Jerome, two of them being for Ivins and Jerome only, 12 for Plummer, and 3 as above noted not counted for district attorney. Hearst's total of 100 was subdivided as follows: Hearst and Shearn 50, Hearst and Jerome 48, Hearst and Osborne 1; not counted for district attorney 1. McClellan's total of 133 showed 98 for McClellan and Osborne, 32 for McClellan and Jerome, 7 for McClellan and the socialist candidate, and 2 not counted for district attorney."

Coup D'Etat Feared.

Havana, Nov. 14. It is believed that the government fears a coup d'etat, as the number of police at the palace has recently been trebled and for the last two nights the policemen have been compelled to sleep on the palace floor.

BIG DEAL

DR. MARMADUKE DILLON HAS BOUGHT SOME OF LAWSON PROPERTY.

Editor Louis Brownlow Resigns His Place on News-Democrat—Other Commercial News.

Yesterday there was completed a deal whereby Dr. Marmaduke Dillon of New Orleans became the purchaser of a ninety-foot strip of ground, 165 feet deep, at the corner of Seventh and Broadway. It is the corner lot off the Capt. Jack Lawson property, which was owned by Mrs. Edward McFadden, of St. Louis. The consideration for the property is private, but it can be stated it was a good round sum, away up in the figures. Dr. Dillon contemplates erecting either a handsome residence there or business building, this having not yet been fully decided on. He was represented in the deal by his uncle, Chief Surgeon D. G. Murrell, of the Illinois Central Railroad Hospital.

Editor Resigns.

Editor Louis Brownlow, of the News-Democrat, has resigned his position, effective next Friday, when he leaves for Nashville, Tenn., to take his old position on the Nashville American. He will probably be their Washington (D. C.) correspondent again. His place here will be taken by Mr. Goodwin, who is at present connected with the American in the editorial room. Mr. Thomas Lovelace, the city editor of that paper, has resigned and goes to St. Louis to embark in the real estate and lumber business, while the other city editor, Mr. Sullivan, has resigned and returned to Illinois, his former home. Miss Ora Leigh will shortly resign her place on that publication and go to Frankfort to reside with her brother, Col. Ed O. Leigh, the private secretary to Gov. Beckham.

Several Offers.

Capt. Joe Wood, who resigned his position on the police force, has several nice offers, but has not yet fully decided which one to accept. He made a most excellent official discharge his duty well, and his departure from the service is a loss to the force.

Make Heading Shortly.

Manager Blaine Kilgore, of the cooperage works in Mechanicsburg, stated yesterday that they would be making heading within the next three weeks. The heading department was burned two weeks ago, but the firm is preparing to install machinery in the barrel department to make their heading, while the latter department is being rebuilt. Heretofore the heading mill has been two blocks distant from the barrel works, but now it will be rebuilt beside the barrel building and the temporary machinery used to turn out the heading inside the barrel plant.

Former Paducahan.

Mr. Thomas J. Flournoy, the manager for the big cement factory at Rosemart, Ga., arrived here yesterday on business and will be in the city for several days. His plant is one of the largest in the entire south and he has been superintending it for one year. He has many business interests in this city that demand his periodical return.

Converted Into Stable.

Harry Anderson, the colored hackman, is fixing up as a stable for his business the frame building formerly occupied as the John V. Grief blacksmith establishment, on Kentucky avenue between Third and Fourth streets, now owned by Mr. Ed D. Hannan. The blacksmith shop tenants built on Washington between Third and Fourth and Anderson now takes their old stand, which he leased from Mr. Hannan for several years.

BODY MOVED

NO FUNERAL ARRANGEMENTS MADE FOR PRINTO MERRITT.

The Coroner's Jury Yesterday Morning Completely Exonerated Young Johnson.

Yesterday afternoon the remains of Printo Merritt were removed from the Mattil & Efinger establishment to the home of his brother, who lives next door to the family residence on South Eighth street. The parents of the young man, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Merritt, have been in Hopkinsville, but are expected home this morning at 5 o'clock, being summoned by the sad message of the deplorable fate of the boy. Until their arrival no funeral services will be arranged for.

Yesterday morning Coroner Chas. Crow conducted the inquest into the death of the Merritt boy and the jury returned the following verdict:

"We, the jury, duly impaneled and sworn to inquire into the cause of death of Printo Merritt, now lying before us dead, find from the evidence that he came to his death from a gunshot wound inflicted by the accidental discharge of a gun in the hands of Lawrence Johnson. We do further find that the said killing was the result of an accident that occurred on the night of November 13, 1905.

JOHN W. COUNTS.

"I. ACKERMAN,
"W. R. LEDFORD,
"CLEM FRANZOLA,
"B. W. BROWN,
"J. W. BURTON."

Immediately upon the jurors exonerating the Johnson boy he returned to his home at 905 Clark street, where he resides with his brother. He is the son of Mr. B. F. Johnson, of the Maxon's Mill neighborhood of the county, and brother of Editor Claude Johnson, of the Labor Journal of this city.

The lad was greatly affected by the killing and immediately after the verdict of the coroner's jury took the gun which caused the death and smashed it to pieces on the city hall corner. He had simply been detained by the chief until the coroner's inquest returned the verdict, this being customary in this class of cases, so official record could be made of the accidental character of the killing.

The testimony at the inquest showed facts as published yesterday morning, that the boys were walking along the lonely country road "possum hunting" when the gun went off while Johnson was trying to close the barrel, the charge striking Merritt, who was walking along behind the other.

Certificates Issued.

Yesterday morning County Election Commissioners William Farley and Lem B. Ogilvie, finished writing out the certificates, showing what candidates were elected to the different offices during the election of last week. Commissioner Farley has the certificates at his store in Mechanicsburg, where the victorious aspirants can procure theirs by calling. Nothing further developed in the count to change the result announced originally through these columns.

MADE ESCAPE.

Three Men Tunnel Their Way Out of Jail at Benton.

Yesterday afternoon about 1 o'clock at Benton, three prisoners dug their way out of the county jail and made their escape, they being Harry Phillips, of Martin, Tenn., Albert Babb, of Mayfield, and Henry Henson, of Marshall county, all in and serving fines imposed for selling liquor at Gilbertville without a license. The men cut a hole through the wooden floor of the jail, got into the cellar and then tunneled through a twelve-inch brick wall and escaped. Lindo Murphy, who is serving time with the others for the same offense, would not leave, saying he could not afford to betray his Paducah bondsmen who are on his bond to appear before the federal court here next week to answer the same charge, alleged bootlegging.

Misses Rebecca Allen and Mary Morton yesterday returned from visiting in Louisville.

SHOOTIST CAUGHT

HE HAD GONE TO WORK AT PRINCETON YESTERDAY MORNING.

Cliff Bidwell Arrested on Malicious Assault Charge—Hagins Is Taken Charge Of.

Fred Crossland, the negro charged with shooting at John Williams, also colored, night before last, was captured yesterday at Princeton and brought here last evening at 6:40 o'clock by the sheriff of that place. He was lodged in jail and will be arraigned before Judge Sanders this morning in the police court.

Monday night Williams and Crossland had a shooting match at each other, as a result of some words over the sweetheart of the former, the incident happening in a house occupied by colored people in the alley behind the public school house on North Ninth, just beyond Trimble street. Neither man was hit. Williams was arrested, but Crossland got away. He reached Princeton yesterday morning and immediately got a job with the railroad there and was working when arrested by the officials, who had been notified to keep a lookout for him.

Bidwell Arrested.

Two years ago Herman Matthews and Cliff Bidwell, colored, got into a fight at Ninth and Boyd streets and Matthews cut the other. He escaped and was caught at Cairo last week and brought back here. Yesterday morning he was held to the grand jury for cutting Bidwell and immediately afterward Bidwell was arrested on the charge of maliciously assaulting Matthews. His trial comes up this morning.

Little Package On.

Mike Hagins, white, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Detectives Moore and Baker on the charge of being drunk and disorderly at the Palmer house.

MAN HELD UP

WALTER VAUGHAN, WHITE, CLAIMS HE WAS RELIEVED OF NINE DOLLARS.

Lula Reed, Colored, Arrested on the Charge of Being the Female in the Case—Is Identified.

Officers Johnson and Rogers last evening arrested Lula Reed, colored, and locked her up on the charge of being implicated in the robbery of Walter Vaughan, white, the night before, while the latter was passing on Washington street between Third and Fourth en route to his home on Third street near Washington. He claims he was relieved of $9 in cash.

Vaughan conducts the popcorn and peanut stand on the vacant plot of ground in front of the residence building occupied for office purposes by Dr. J. W. Pendley on Broadway between Fourth and Fifth streets. Monday night about the hour mentioned he had gone up Fourth street to Washington, and then turned in towards Third, enroute home. While in front of the livery stable in the middle of the block, the building being used by Undertakers Pool & Nance for their vehicles, he says that a negro man approached him from the front and asked for a match. Not thinking anything was up, Vaughan felt for the match, but had no sooner done so than the man grabbed him, and while he was held the negro came up from behind and went through his pockets procuring what cash he had on his person.

Vaughan identified the negro as being the one who went through him, and gave the authorities a good description of the man.

SPRING CARNIVAL

ELECTION OF OFFICERS HELD LAST NIGHT BY ASSOCIATION.

It Is More Than Probable That They Will Select Their Attractions Separately.

Last evening a meeting was held by the Paducah Carnival Association that gives the festival each spring, and the annual election of officers held, with the result that the following were chosen: L. A. Lagomarsino, president; A. W. Grief, vice president; Rodney C. Davis, secretary and treasurer, while the board of directors are Dick Davis, chairman; L. A. Lagomarsino, Jeff J. Read, Charles Wille and Rodney C. Davis.

The association is now gradually making its arrangements for the entertainment to be given next year, but the date has not been fully decided upon. It will be some time in the spring, as that is the season the body has always given their festival heretofore for the past few years.

The executive committee was instructed to go ahead and make all the necessary preparations for the next affair, and looking towards this end, president Lagomarsino reported to the balance of the officials last night that he had received a communication from Mr. J. C. Williams, of Conroy Island in reference to the celebrated fire fighters' show which that gentleman is managing over the country this year, and also next season. Mr. Williams wants to make a contract for the appearance of his feature here during the next spring carnival, and negotiations will be opened up with him. It takes four cars to haul his men and effects and probabilities are they will be brought to this city.

The association for next year is inclined to pick their attractions separately and not enter into a contract with some carnival company to supply the entire outfit. They believe they can do better in this manner, as by it they have the pick and choice of whatever good that comes along, and can amass a first-class combination of shows. They have not fully made up their mind in this respect, however, but it is generally conceded that this is what they will do.

Another thing decided upon by the promoters is that the German Village will not be given next spring in connection with the carnival, but something as good substituted. The villages have always been features of the entertainments heretofore, but the American Inn of the traveling men's festival proved such a big success several weeks ago, that the spring carnival people will substitute for the village something that will enliven the bill and do away with this feature, which some have objected to.

LODGE LOSES

APPELLATE COURT YESTERDAY SUSTAINED LOWER TRIBUNAL.

Kevil Concern Composed of Secret Lodges Lost Its Suit Against Jackson Foundry.

In the court of appeals at Frankfort, Ky., yesterday that tribunal affirmed the lower court's decision in the suit of the Fraternal Construction company against the Jackson Foundry and Machine company. The action went up from this city.

The construction company is composed of secret lodges at Kevil, Ky., down on the new Cairo division of the Illinois Central railroad. The concern erected a lodge building at Kevil and got from the Jackson foundry of this city, the iron pillars and other similar material used in constructing the building. One day after the building was completed, a cyclone came along and blew same down. The construction company then sued the Paducah foundry for several thousand dollars damages, on the ground that the wind was not what downed the building, but that the iron pillars Jackson sold them were of inferior quality and caused the building to collapse without any assistance from the strong gale blowing during the cyclone. In the local circuit court the construction company lost its suit against the foundry people but plain tiffs appealed to the appellate bench, which now affirms the lower court and exonerates the Paducah foundry of the charge of selling weak and non-durable iron pillars.

FOR THAT PLACE IN NEW YORK.

Election Commissioners for This County Have Finished Writing Out Certificates.

One of the successful candidates for the state senate of New York during the recent election, was Hon. James Quinn, of New York city, who is a cousin of General Agent John T. Donovan, of the Illinois Central railroad in this city, where the attorney visited several years ago, and is well remembered by his many friends.

He was elected to the state senate from one of the city districts of New York, being on the Tammany side of the ticket. He is one of the greatest lawyers of the metropolis and is particularly remembered here by the Elks, as during his visit he delivered an address one night to the members, proving himself quite a learned and impressive orator.

GOVERNMENT EM-PLOYEES STRIKE.

Claim in France They Are Not Allowed Liberty of Speech.

Paris, Nov. 14.—The union of the government employees of the arsenals and dockyards at Toulon, Brest and other naval headquarters has ordered a general strike, beginning today. This threatens to seriously interrupt the naval construction program. Military forces are being concentrated to preserve order at ports.

The strikers claim that liberty of speech is denied them by the dismissal of workmen who criticize the naval administration. The Federation of Government Employees has issued an appeal to the employees of the post and telegraph department, the mint, military arsenals and tobacco and match and other state industries to give their moral support to the naval strikers.

NASHVILLE MAN ARRESTED.

Charged by Young Lady With Taking Money From Her Purse.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 14.—Middleton Roe, aged 24, who hails from Nashville, Tenn., is in jail on the charge of larceny preferred by Miss Grace Bell, who alleges Roe stole $30 from her. The couple visited a local theater Monday night and the young woman says she gave Roe her purse to hold for her. She says Roe went out after the first act "To see a man."
He returned, but left again after the third act, handing her the purse. She opened it and found it empty. Roe was arrested yesterday on Sixth avenue and committed to jail in default of $500 bail. Beyond the fact that he hails from Nashville and claims to be a traveling man, nothing can be learned from him.

STATE'S OLDEST MASON IS DEAD.

est Odd Fellow in Kentucky.

Covington, Ky., Nov. 14.—E. B.
Lewis, aged eighty-six, said to be the oldest Mason and Odd Fellow in Kentucky, died at his home on Russell avenue, of senility. He had made preparations to celebrate his birthday next Saturday. Lewis was one of the most widely known pioneers in Covington. For fifty years he was a deacon of the Fifth street Christian church. He was a charter member of three Covington lodges and was a member of two of them for sixty years. He leaves a widow and two daughters.

SUNFLOWER PHILOSOPHY.

(Atchinson, Kansas Globe.)

It is because of a man's modesty.
If a man marries for money he earns every penny he gets.

Things are this way all through life—the Czar wanted a Czarowitz to leave his crown to; now he has the Czarowitz and no crown.

When an Atchinson widow, whose husband has been dead only a short time, plays the piano, she plays only on the black keys.

Who invented the notion that a lot of green stuff, which the men believe is weeds, looks good stuck around the meat at dinner?

When there is a death in the family of a poor man the children are taken to the funeral and find their first compensation in riding in the hack.

It is true marriage is an uncertainty. One can never tell if the bride's father will have to support the groom or if the groom will have to support
the bride's father.

The man who spends a lot of time calling on the girls is not necessarily looking for a wife. Perhaps he is only widow shopping.

Lady Wyndham-Quin, the daughter of Lord Dunraven, is among the practical horticulturists of the peerage and

All the mills on the Penobscot, and throughout Maine, are sawing spruce lumber at top capacity, and the lumber is being rushed away, as fast as vessels can be chartered to carry it.
There never was such a demand for lumber of this kind.

Money in Timber Lands.

Fortunes have been made and can easily be made today by buying Arkansas rich river bottom lands, heavily covered with timber, at a nominal price, holding the land for a few years and then selling the timber at twice the price the land and timber both cost and then have the land cleared and sell it for five times the original purchase price and sometimes ten times the cost. We have a proposition of this kind in 1,600 acres of land in Arkansas at only $3.50 per acre. One-third cash, balance 1 and 2 years, at 6 per cent. This land when clear will rent for $5.00 per acre per year. Full particulars on request.

GOES TO TEXAS

PRESIDENT DAVIDSON OF FRISCO NOW DOWN THAT WAY.

On His Return He Will Receive the Paducahans and Inform Them
What Was Done.

Word from President Davidson of the Frisco railroad is that he has gone to Texas, and he cannot receive the Paducahans until he returns from that state to his headquarters in St. Louis. He will be seen about what the board of directors of his system did about coming into this city from their present terminus at Jopka, Ill.

President Davidson and other official heads of that great road were here several weeks ago, looking over Paducah, and promised to lay before the meeting of the board of directors, the question of building up here from Jopka, where the line now stops.
After inspecting Paducah the president and his party went to New York to attend the assembly of directors, and now they have returned to St.
Louis, but Mr. Davidson went on to Texas on important business.

He has informed Paducahans that he will be back some time next week to meet them at the Future Great and acquaint the local parties with what decision was made by the board of directors.

It is also claimed that the Frisco is trying to lease the N. C. & St. L. railroad, running from this city to Nashville and Memphis, so as to in this manner effect an entrance into those cities. Her object is to build up to here from the present terminus at Jopka and then go over the N. C.
& St. L. to both the Tennessee cities.

When I Went to See College Football

I've been in railroad accidents where many lives were lost
And seen bad smashups on the trolley cars;
I've witnessed cowboys shooting scrapes where no one counts the cost,
And seen men killed in feuds and in racial wars.
I thought my nerves were hardened to the sight of blood and strife,
(Who in my place, would not aye thought the same?)
But, bless me, if I didn't faint—the first time in my life—
When I went to the college football game.

I've seen men executed by the rope and guillotine,
A maddened bull impale a matador,
And terrible explosions of nitro-glycerine—
But never in my wanderings, before,
Has anything upset me like that rush toward the goal—
Beside which all the other things are tame—
Upon old Yale's campus. Ah! it terrified my soul
When I went to the college football game.

I've often watched the surgeons do a vivisection act
Without the nervous batting of an eye,
And deemed myself familiar with the decalogue, in fact,
Of all the human horrors 'neath the sky.
Alas! I was an amateur—until the other day.
I did not guess the ways to kill and maim
That science had made possible—not till I saw the play,
When I went to the college football game.

DECIDED TO MOVE

COUNTY CLERK GRAHAM HAS FINALLY MADE UP HIS MIND.

Schedule To Be Filed Today for the Y. M. C. A.—No Marriage Licenses Issued for Nearly Week.

County Clerk Charles Graham has fully decided to move to Kevil, Ballard county, after the first of next year, and enter the general merchandise business. He has moved from his home on West Broadway, to North Eighth, between Jefferson and Monroe streets, and immediately after going out will prepare to move.

Be Filled Today.

Today there will be filed the schedule of liabilities and assets for the defunct Young Men's Christian association, which made an assignment
last week, and lodged the documents for record, naming Harry Stiles as the assignee. The law requires that the schedule be filed in five days and today is the expiration of the time limit.

No Wedding Licenses.

No marriage licenses have been issued at the county clerk's office for nearly an entire week and it looks as if business is unusually dull in this line. This is the longest period things have run without a license being issued for many months.

SEALED VERDICT

NOT TO BE KNOWN FOR SOME DAYS HOW JURY DECIDED.

There Was Dismissed the Petition for Rehearing of Suit of Lena Maud Flint Vs. I. C.

Yesterday in the circuit court the jury in the Interstate Life Assurance society case, returned a sealed verdict, which will not be opened until word from Indianapolis, Ind., is received, that being headquarters for the society. It cannot be told until then what is inside the sealed envelope.

There is a law on the books of Kentucky stating any insurance company shall be fined $500 for rebating any part of premiums to policyholders. Commonwealth Attorney John G. Lovett, of this judicial district, filed suit against the Interstate company, claiming they rebated. The action was given the jury last Saturday and they have not yet been able to reach a verdict. Although the commonwealth filed suit against the insurance company, still this proceeding is in the nature of a criminal or penal action, therefore the entire jury of twelve have to decide one way, else be discharged as a "hung jury," and the matter continued over until next court. In civil suits none of the jurors deciding one way can render a verdict that stands. These twelve men having this proceeding yesterday informed Judge Reed that the full number were not of the same opinion, but that over nine favored a certain verdict, which they did not expose to the judge. It seeming to be impossible to get the minority of the jury to agree with the majority, Commonwealth Attorney Lovett and County Attorney Eugene Graves yesterday agreed to accept a verdict, signed by nine of the men. The local attorneys for the insurance society did not feel authorized to enter this compact, without conferring with the insurance company's headquarters at Indianapolis. The jury then returned a verdict in a sealed envelope, with there attached nine or more names. Now, if word comes back from Indianapolis that this verdict with there attached names signed, is satisfactory to the insurance authorities and they will consider it binding, the envelope will be torn open and judgment read. It is not known whether same is in favor of the commonwealth or for the insurance people. If the latter will not agree that the nine or more verdict is binding, the envelope and contents will be burned, the jury finally dismissed as "hung," and proceeding continued until the next term.

Judge Reed granted Ollie Vlahos a divorce from her husband, James Vlahos, and she was restored to her maiden name of Ollie Ruggles. There was dismissed the motion for a re-hearing of the suit of Lena Maud Flint against the Interstate Central railroad. The girl was injured with the balance of the picnic party that got caught three years ago on the Illinois Central trestle near Dawson, while they were up there attending the railroad employees' picnic. On trial of the suit she lost. In trial of another one of the suits filed by a member of the injured party, the lawyers for the Flint girl claim they discovered new evidence, and asked the court for a new trial, but the motion was overruled, it being based on the alleged new evidence.

In the proceeding of M. M. Corniel against Joseph Froyles, the sheriff was ordered to sell some attached corn and other material, to prevent same from rotting and spoiling.

Special Judge Chosen.

Judge Charles H. Bush, Hopkinsville, has been chosen special judge to try here the suit where Joseph Smith tries to have set aside a deed in which he transferred his interest in certain property to his father, the late Captain James R. Smith, before his death. Judge Campbell was selected as special judge to try the proceedings, on the regular Judge W. M. Reed, refusing to try it. Mr. Campbell refused, and now yesterday word was received here that Judge Bush had been chosen and accepted. He is the eminent jurist who as special judge, tried the proceeding last year, wherein the City National bank and Sam B. Hughes tried to oust W. B. McPherson from the Fourth and Broadway building, that belongs to the bank, but occupied by the drug-gist, who won the contention.

Sworn into Office.

Joseph A. Miller, the new circuit clerk, was yesterday administered the oath for his office, and took charge immediately. The oath was administered to him by Justice Jesse Young, who is the acting county judge during the absence of Judge Lightfoot, who is over in Illinois until tomorrow.

The African explorer, Livingstone, is to have a monument erected to his memory at Chimbaroo, where he died.

Social Tragedy

Women Who Brave Death for Social Honors.

In the midst of one of the most brilliant social functions of the season, a noted society woman started suddenly from her chair with a scream of agony and fell insensible to the floor.

A few hours later the distinguished physician told her anxious husband that she was suffering from an acute case of nervous prostration brought on by female trouble, and hinted at an operation. Fortunately a friend advised her to try

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

The result was that she escaped the surgeon's knife and to-day is a well woman.

The derangement of the delicate female organism sets every nerve in the body quivering with pain. Headaches, backaches, torturing bearing down pains and dragging sensations make women nervous and hysterical.

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I was troubled for eight years, with irregularities which broke down my system and brought on extreme nervousness and hysteria. I could neither enjoy my meals nor sleep nights, became easily irritated and nervous and very despondent. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound proved to be the only medicine which helped me. After taking the third bottle, my general health began to improve. At the end of the fifth month I was well and could attend to my household and social duties and enjoy life.

MRS. CHESTER CURRY, 42 Saratoga Street, East Boston, Mass.

Mrs. Curry, whose portrait appears on the right, is the leader of the Ladies' Symphony Orchestra. The following letter is from Miss Goode, President of the Bryn Mawr Lawn Tennis Club of Chicago:

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I tried many different remedies to try to build up my system, which had become run down from loss of proper rest and unseasonable hours, but nothing seemed to help me. Mother is a great advocate of Lydia Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for female troubles, having used it herself some years ago with great success. So I began to take it, and in less than a month I was able to be out of bed and out of doors, and in three months I was entirely well. Really I have never felt so strong and well as I have since.

BREATHITT REDEEMED.

(Lexington Herald.)

Through success a rebellion became a revolution in Breathitt county Tuesday. It was a peaceful revolution as it happened. Those who led it were prepared either for peace or for war, and for that reason had peace. It was a surprise to us. We did not believe it was possible for the Fusion ticket to defeat the co-called Democratic ticket of which Judge James Hargis was the head. We knew that the majority of the people of Breathitt county were opposed to the Hargis ticket; that if there was a free, fair, honest vote that ticket would be overwhelmingly defeated. We knew the majority of the people of Breathitt county were law-abiding, law-loving, honest citizens and that if they had the chance to express their preference at the polls they would vote for men who represented their desires. But with Hargis and Callahan having control of the election commission we feared that they would succeed in stealing enough votes to continue their rule.

The revolt against them was, however, led by able, fearless men, who determined to have a fair vote and to have peace in Breathitt county, even if they had to fight for it. Preparations were made for war that there might be peace, and early in the morning in an altercation between Judge Hargis and Judge-elect Taulbee, it was made plain to Hargis and his followers that if trouble came it would be trouble for them as much, or more, than for their opponents.

The accounts in The Herald by a staff correspondent whom we sent to Jackson Monday are a vivid description of that difficulty. The history of Breathitt county for the past four years surpasses in interest and in tragic occurrences that of any county of which we know.

The election four years ago was stolen. The men who have held office for the last four years were not the choice of a majority of the people. Under the influence of the wave of corrupt politics which swept over Kentucky the theft of those offices was excused if not justified by thousands of Democrats. Judge Hargis was elected a member of the Democratic State Central Committee. Using the power of that position for his own purposes, he bent to his will the Democratic organization and cast upon the Democratic party of the state the odium of being his sponsor. Sued for damages by the widow of a man who had been assassinated on the streets of Jackson, he employed as his counsel the chairman of the Democratic state central committee. His adherents boasted openly that they controlled the pardoning power of the state. There were facts which gave apparent credence to that boast.

The people of Breathitt county seemed to be without relief. Men who opposed the machine were assassinated; men who dared raise their voice in protest against it were driven from the county; the courts seemed subservient to its commands; in no community, not even in shameless Louisville, did the machine seem to have firmer grasp on the offices than did the Hargises on the offices in Breathitt county. But it is impossible for any machine in America to continue to rule either by corrupt ballot or the assassin's bullet against the will of the people. Quietly, almost secretly, some of the determined men of Breathitt county began the organization of a Fusion ticket, and induced some of the best men in the mountains to run on that ticket. Quietly almost secretly, they consulted with those who are familiar with practical politics as it is played by desperate men. Their organization perfected, they entered the fight determined that there should be a fair election in that county, and the result is that the Hargis regime is over and the power of his organization broken. No longer can he claim to represent the state administration; no longer can his adherents boast that they control the pardoning power; no longer can he and Callahan prostitute the offices of county judge and sheriff for the protection of assassins and the persecution of their enemies.

More important to Kentucky than any election in any city, unless possibly it be the election in Louisville, is the result in Breathitt county. Those who have won the victory there deserve, and will receive, the thanks of the honest citizenry of Kentucky irrespective of their political affiliations.

AMERICANS ARE SAFE IN RUSSIA SAYS AMBASSADOR MEYER.

Therefore No Vessel Will Be Sent To Neighboring Waters To Protect Interests.

Washington, Nov. 14.—Ambassador Meyer, who is in Washington to take final instructions from the state department before returning to his post at St. Petersburg, has informed the officials that in his opinion there is no danger of injury to Americans or American interests in St. Petersburg at the present moment. Some time ago, when the situation at the Russian capital seemed critical, the navy department at the instance of the state department, contemplated dispatching the cruiser Minneapolis from the Mediterranean to Cronstadt to be within reach of the American embassy in case of uncontrollable rioting, and to serve as a refuge for any American who might be in St. Petersburg and in need of protection. It was seen, however, that there might be difficulty in getting permission to pass the Russian fortifications and as the crisis appeared to disappear the orders were never issued and the Minneapolis is now on her way from Lisbon to Cherbourg.

HAS FULL APPROVAL OF WHOLE COUNTRY

Retaining the Power of the French Cabinet in Face of Defeat.

Paris, Nov. 14.—Premier Rouvier's action in retaining power in spite of Friday's parliamentary adventure has the full approval of the country, which seems to feel that it would be a mistake to change the ministry until the effects of M. Rouvier's foreign policy have had time to mature. Until the Waldeck-Rousseau ministry established the new practical standard of ministerial tactics in parliament in the place of the old sentimental standard, the sudden change in the cabinet's majority which happened Friday would have been sufficient to force any ministry out of power. But as Mr. Ribot said to the press correspondent, after the sitting: "This is no stage in our history for ornamental etiquette. When a ministry trips over an orange peel in these days we pick it up, mend it and put it to work again if it deserves such treatment. On any question affecting the real interests of the country," continued Mr. Ribot, "the Rouvier cabinet is sure to get a republican majority."

WALL STREET CLERK TO REFORMATORY

Stole Securities Few Weeks Ago Valued at Over $350,000.

New York, Nov. 14.—Harry A. Leonard, the young Wall street clerk, who stole $350,000 worth of securities from the City National bank recently, was Monday sentenced to thirteen or fourteen months' imprisonment in Elmira reformatory. He pleaded guilty, and Judge McMahon in giving sentence said he believed the boy's story that he took the securities as an object lesson to Wall street of the ease with which thefts might be made. All the stolen securities were recovered.

ASKED FOR HAMILTON.

Insurance Committee Orders McCall to Demand His Return From Europe.

New York, Nov. 14.—John A. McCall, president of the New York Life Insurance company, was called before the Insurance Investigating Committee Monday and was ordered by the committee to demand the return to this country of Andrew Hamilton and an account of the moneys which Hamilton has expended and for which the New York Life Insurance company holds no vouchers beyond personal receipts.

Hamilton has represented life insurance companies before the legislature at Albany and is now believed to be in Europe.

Mr. McCall said that if Hamilton does not repay to the New York Life Insurance company before December 15 the sum of $235,000 which Hamilton received from the company and had not accounted for, he (McCall) will pay the amount himself to the New York Life Insurance company before December 31.

WITHDRAWAL OF TROOPS FROM CHINA.

German Foreign Office Explains Exact Status of Affairs.

Berlin, Nov. 14.—The foreign office says the dispatch of the London Daily Telegraph from Tokio, published Monday, saying that an agreement has been concluded between the German governor of Kiaochow and the Chinese governor of the province of Shantung, under which Kiaochow will be evacuated in January and Kiao-chi six months after the signature of the agreement, is a mixture of truth and error.

The facts are that Emperor William, at the time when he proposed to the Empress Regent of China the withdrawal of the foreign troops from the province of Chi Li except the legation guards, also proposed, on his own initiative, to evacuate Kiao-chi and the town of Kiaochow, the latter being in the interior and both outside of Germany's sphere under the lease contract. They were temporarily occupied at the time of the boxer movement as a precautionary measure, and their occupation was never meant to be permanent.

The emperor's proposal was communicated to the Chinese government through the German minister, Dr. Baron Munster von Schwartzstein, some time before Baron Komura's arrival in Peking as special envoy of Japan. The measure is in one sense due to the Japanese pressure. Moreover, a question of the withdrawal of the German forces from Kiao-chow territory does not exist. The treaty by which Germany leased the Kiao-chow district remains in force and unaltered.

Sale for Concert.

Tomorrow evening at The Kentucky there will be given the grand concert by the ladies of the Daughters of the American Revolution, and the advance sale of seats has been unusually large, thereby evidencing that the entire city intends turning out en masse to witness the attraction, the money from which goes to the general fund being raised for the purchase of a fine silver service set for the gunboat Paducah. A most excellent program has been arranged, featuring many interesting features.

A Correction.

Paducah Typographical Union will not take part in the labor parade, and the C. L. U. had no authority to so announce, having been officially notified that we would not.

CLOSE LEASE

THE EAGLES WILL TAKE THE LATE Y. M. C. A. QUARTERS ON BROADWAY.

Tonight at the Regular Weekly Meeting the Minstrel Question Will Be Decided On.

At the special meeting last evening of the Fraternal Order of Eagles the brethren of that lodge decided to close a lease for the Sixth and Broadway property which has heretofore been occupied by the Young Men's Christian Association, which made an assignment and is now preparing to wind up its business.

Mr. W. H. Riecke owns the building, while the Y. M. C. A. owns the gymnasium building, which is frame, and was added onto the rear of the brick building proper. The trustees were instructed to close negotiations in this respect. They are Dr. Horace Rivers and Messrs. Frank Ferriman, J. A. Konetzka and President Ben Weille. The deal with Mr. Riecke has about been made, while a dicker will have to be made with Mr. Harry Stiles, assignee of the Y. M. C. A., for the gymnasium house in the rear. It is believed that the latter can be bought for a price which would be no more than the value of the main buildings.

The Eagles will also, if they can, buy the furnishings the Y. M. C. A. now has in the building, they comprising the furniture in the bedrooms on the second floor and also the equipment for the reading, writing, recreation and game rooms on the ground floor. If the association does not sell them then the assigned body will have to move its effects. The secret order will then equip the rooms and continue renting those on the upper floor for bedroom quarters, while the ground floor will be used as club rooms. It is not thought, however, that any trouble will be had in buying the association's effects, as the officials of that defunct concern are desirous of selling so as to convert everything into cash and get the business of the organization fully wound up as quickly as possible.

Tonight the Eagles hold their regular weekly meeting and then some step will be taken towards giving a minstrel entertainment at the Kentucky. The money derived from same will go into the general treasury, but mostly be devoted to placing additional equipment and furnishings in their new quarters.

If things as desired go through completely, the lodge will use the present gymnasium portion of the quarters as the lodgeroom, wherein will be conducted the secret work of the order. It is also the intention of the Eagles, if the proposed deal meets with no delay, to beautify the grounds and building and make this one of the most attractive public buildings in Paducah.

PARTING BANQUET

ACCORDED HON. GIVEN CAMPBELL AT ST. LOUIS LAST EVENING.

He Has Been Practicing There for Thirty Years, but Comes Back Here to Reside.

Telegraphic dispatches from St. Louis last night stated that the bar association of that city had given Hon. Given Campbell a farewell banquet at their quarters and that the affair was one of the swiftest social entertainments ever conducted in the Future Great. There were present several hundred of the leading lawyers of St. Louis and Missouri and they spent many hours over the festival board paying the last tribute of associated respect to their brother, who has for over thirty years past ranked as one of the leading barristers of that metropolitan city.

Mr. Campbell has constructed for himself and family in Arcadia a very fine summer home and is now coming back here to spend the balance of his days with old friends and citizens. The affair was the last compliment paid him by those who have practiced along with him for years past.

He left here shortly after the war for St. Louis when quite a young man, and starting at the bottom of the legal profession has gradually arisen until regarded as one of the eminent lights of that city from a law standpoint. Often have honors been offered him from a public office-holding viewpoint, but he has steadfastly declined them and clung to his legal practice, which was a mammoth one and very remunerative.

He is a brother of Judge James Campbell of this city, and his friends are glad to welcome him back once again to our midst. His house is completed, while the household furnishings are now arriving and being installed. Of course, he will pay St. Louis a visit now and then to wind up his business, but this will be his home henceforth.

AROUND THE TOWN.

Pretty girls, lively comedy, complete scenic investiture and musical numbers galore is what those startling comedians, Murray and Mack, promise us in their new piece, "Around the Town," which will appear here tonight at the Kentucky.

Of course, there is not much that is not much that is new that can be said regarding Murray and Mack themselves as they have been amongst us so many times that almost every man, woman and child, who knows anything about the theatre at all is familiar with Mack's little fat man and Murray's tall thin impersonation. They come, this season, well endorsed by the newspaper critics everywhere they have appeared and unless all signs fail this will be the record breaker for Murray and Mack, not only in financial returns but merit of performance. They will introduce many novelties this season; in fact, about the only old thing they will spring will be their famous old boxing match that has laid dormant for a couple of seasons. Many local managers and dramatic critics in the past two years have asked why this extremely funny piece of business has been cut out, so they concluded this year to brush off the moth balls from their boxing gloves and again put back this extremely funny incident. The company this season numbers thirty-five people, all of whom are promised adepts in their line of work.
